In 2018 and 2024, surveys of members of the American Political Science Association ranked him the worst president.

How many Peace Prize winners have given the medal away?

While there is no exhaustive official count, at least five Nobel Peace Prize laureates (or their estates) have famously given away, donated, or sold their physical medals.
While the Norwegian Nobel Committee maintains that the award and honor are "inseparably linked" to the original winner and cannot be transferred, there are no restrictions on how a laureate disposes of the physical 18-carat gold medal.

Notable Examples

Several Nobel Peace Prize winners have parted with their medals:
In 2026, María Corina Machado reportedly gave her 2025 medal to U.S. President Donald Trump. (motive: Bribe to get the chanse to be leader in Venezuela?)
Dmitry Muratov, the 2021 laureate, auctioned his medal in 2022 for a record $103.5 million, with the proceeds going to UNICEF for Ukrainian refugee children.
After his passing, Kofi Annan's (2001) medal was donated to the United Nations Office in Geneva in 2024 and is now on permanent display there.
Carlos Saavedra Lamas's (1936) medal was sold at auction for $1.1 million in 2014.
The family of Christian Lous Lange (1921) loaned his medal to the Nobel Peace Center in Oslo in 2005, where it is the only original Peace Prize medal on permanent exhibit in Norway.
Note: Other Nobel laureates, such as Literature winner Knut Hamsun, have also given away their medals. During World War II, Hamsun supported the German war effort. He courted and met with high-ranking Nazi officers, including Adolf Hitler. Nazi Minister of Propaganda Joseph Goebbels wrote a long and enthusiastic diary entry concerning a private meeting with Hamsun; according to Goebbels, Hamsun's "faith in German victory is unshakable". After the war, he was detained by police for treason. He was tried in Grimstad and fined. 325,000 Norwegian kroner. (8 236 000 Swedish kronor worth (2025))

Psychiatrist, author and former member of parliament and minister Claes Andersson says he stands by his statement in the Elders' Council on Yle Vega on Monday. Donald Trump suffers from a personality disorder, he says. The fact that Claes Andersson is now expressing his opinion is because he is a specialist in psychiatry by training. He has worked in psychiatry for over 30 years, including as a chief physician in Ekenäs, at Hesperia Hospital in Helsinki and at Veikkola Sanatorium. He has treated many narcissists and psychopaths during his active career as a doctor, and has his experience to rely on.

- Narcissistic psychopaths are by no means uncommon, he says. What is a narcissist then? A narcissist is self-absorbed, and lacks the ability to empathize with others. He lacks the ability to empathize. Therefore, he does not take responsibility or feel guilty for anything, Andersson explains, adding that despite this, the narcissist is often both charismatic and seductive.

And he maintains that when it comes to Trump, the case is rarely clear. He says he can make this diagnosis remotely, because the symptoms are so clear. And Trump has offered them himself - in everything he has said to cheering crowds and in TV speeches.
And on Twitter.

The Dangerous Case of Donald Trump
37 Psychiatrists and Mental Health Experts Assess a President - Updated and Expanded with New Essays
Author: Bandy X. Lee, M.D., M.Div., Organizer of Yale's "Duty to Warn" Conference
Authors argue that the President's mental health was affecting the mental health of the people of the United States and that he places the country at grave risk of involving it in a war, and of undermining democracy itself due to his dangerous pathology. The Dangerous Case of Donald Trump is a 2017 book edited by Bandy X. Lee, a forensic psychiatrist, containing essays from 27 psychiatrists, psychologists, and other mental health professionals describing the "clear and present danger" that US President Donald Trump's mental health poses to the "nation and individual well being".
